BIOGRAPHY OF CEPHAS C. PARKER OF PORTER TOWNSHIP, CASS COUNTY, MICHIGAN 1841-1930

Research by Janet Monnin, Toledo, Ohio

Cephas C. Parker and his twin Cyrus W. Parker were born on 22 February 1841 at Streetsboro, Portage County, Ohio.[1] They were the first children born to Asahel Bacus PARKER and Hepsey Ann JOHNSON. By 1850, the family had moved to District 52, Huntington County, Indiana.[2]

By 1858, the family had moved to Mottville, St. Joseph County, Michigan.[3] Some of the family members are listed on membership roles of the Porter Baptist Church, Porter Township, Cass County, Michigan, dated 9 January 1858. Cephas C. Parker was a member according to a list entitled "Male members belonging to the 1st Baptist Church in Porter on 20 May 1865."[4] Hepsey died in 1861 and Asahel died at 1862.

In 1861, the Civil War started. For whatever reason, Cephas did not enlist. However, his brother Cyrus enlisted immediately. It is possible that Asahel needed help around the farm, so perhaps he asked that only one son enlist.

On 9 October 1862, Cephas and Octavia EBY were married at Cassopolis, Cass County,[5,6] by the Rev. Jacob Price[7] of the Baptist Society of Cassopolis.[8] Children soon followed their marriage.[9]

1)	Willard C.	born 22 February 1864
2)	Charlotte E.	born 28 March 1866
3)	Ida E.	born 19 September 1868

On 23 September 1864, Cephas enlisted in the Civil War in either Coldwater, Branch County, Michigan or Mottville.[10] He was enrolled in Company B, Halls Independent Sharpshooters of Michigan.[11,12] He was mustered into service as a private on 26 September 1864 at Jackson, Michigan.[13] At enlistment, he was described at 5 foot 11 inches tall, light complexion, blue eyes, light color hair, a farmer,[14] and about 135 pounds.[15]

On 15 March 1865, he was transferred to Captain Conn's Company G of the 1st Regimental Michigan Sharpshooters.[16,17,18] According to the Adjutant General's Office on 12 June 1866, he was reported as being on the muster rolls of Company C of the 1st Michigan Sharpshooters for May and June 1865, where he was reported as a corporal.[19]

In possession of one of Cephas' descendants is a letter that Cephas wrote to a friend named Henry. He wrote it on 31 March 1865 from Petersburgh, Virginia. In the letter he speaks of expecting another attack and hoping that he makes it through safely. It is perhaps ironic that he was indeed wounded just two days later.

During the battle at Petersburgh, Cephas was wounded on 2 April 1865. The rolls showed him as present except for April 3, 1865 when he was sick.[20] Later surgeon's exams of 1866 and 1873 indicate that he was hit by a bullet in the back and hip. The 1873 doctor's exam gives a good description of the injury:

> The bullet hit the upper portion of the sacrum where it joins the Ilium of the right side, hitting both bones and coming out about one inch below the crest of the Ilium of the same side. There is an exfoliation of both bones to some extent which produces lameness and great weakness of the right hip and back.[21]

He was discharged on 7 June 1865 at Slough, the US General Hospital, Washington, D.C.[22]

In 1866, C. C. Parker was elected or appointed Town Clerk of Porter Township.[23] This was the only time that we have discovered that he was in this position, or in the position of Treasurer or Supervisor. Perhaps as a returning war hero he was given this position.

Cephas and Octavia's third child was born on 19 September 1868. The birth must have been difficult, or perhaps there was some disease going around, but Octavia died on 8 October 1868 in Porter Township.[24] There was an affidavit in Cephas' pension file from Phebe S. Meacham who indicates that she had known Cephas from 1860 until his death. She stated that she knew of his marriage to Octavia, as well as her death. Phebe also said that she was present at Octavia's burial in Long Cemetery in Porter Township.[25,26]

After his wife's death, Cephas must have gone through a difficult time. His children were split up and living with different families by the 1870 census. His daughter, Charlotte, was living with the family of James Wolf in Constantine.[27] His son, Willard, was living with Samuel and Sarah Eby, presumably Octavia's brother.[28] No record can be found of Ida, either in 1870 or 1880, so perhaps she died in infancy. No record of Cephas has been found in the 1870 federal census. He indicates in his pension file[29] that he lived his entire life in Porter Township, except for one year at Shelby County, Indiana, and 10 months in California. So perhaps he was in Indiana or California in 1870.

Cephas returned to Michigan at some time between 1870 and 1871, where he married Arabell RICHMOND on 26 November 1871 in Constantine. The Rev. J. W. Beardslee[30] of the Reformed Church of Constantine officiated.[31] We're not sure of Arabell's parents. We know that she and her twin sister Isabel were born on 20 March 1848 in Alexander, Genesee County, New York.[32] By 1860, she was living with Lemuel and Lydia (Richmond) Hammond.[33] Lydia may have been an aunt, but this is conjecture. In 1870, she is living with the family of Morrison and Ellen Harwood as a domestic servant.[34]

Cephas and Arabell had the following children:[35]

4)	Lemuel A.	born 20 August 1872
5)	Aaron R.	born 11 June 1874
6)	Bela P.	born 5 July 1879
7)	Lydia B.	born 30 April 1882
8)	Warren R.	born 13 February 1885
9)	Alfred E.	born 21 October 1890

They lived together and raised their family together, and were shown as living in Porter Township on the federal population census records for 1880,[36] 1900,[37] 1910[38] and 1920.[39] He was also listed on the 1890 special veterans' census.[40]

In 1916, Cephas suffered a fractured left hip.[41] By his medical exam on 10 December 1924, Cephas' health was deteriorating even more. The doctor stated that he was 83 years old, 5 foot 11 inches tall, 140 pounds, sallow complexion, eyes blue, white hair. His teeth were all gone. He had only slight motion of his left leg and cannot dress or undress himself. He had varicose veins with ulcers which required constant bandaging, as well as a hernia for which he had to wear a truss.[42]

On 31 October 1929, Cephas fell on a cement sidewalk. After that accident, he lost the use of his lower extremities and was continuously confined to a bed. He was entirely dependent on someone else for his care.[43]

By 1930, Cephas and Arabell were living with their son Alfred (or he was living with them).[44]

On 9 June 1930, Cephas died at Union, Cass County. (Note that their post office address was R.D.3, Bristol, Indiana).[45] According to the official government death record, the date of death was 8 June 1930. Cause of death was listed as cerebral hemorrhage.[46]

After Cephas' death, Arabell applied for a widow's pension and received that until she died on 20 February 1934.[47] Her death was recorded at the Cass County Courthouse, with cause of death listed as pneumonia.[48]

Arabell's obituary states that she died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Melvin Sutton, near Union, Cass County. It also states that she was buried beside her late husband Cephas in the Union Cemetery. [49, 50]

SICH/
SCHITTENHELM

Christian Seck b. GER 16 Apr 1816 d. 10 Oct 1886 probably Detroit or Redford Twp, Wayne Co., MI; bur. Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit. An immigration record for Christian SCHACH arrived 20 May 7 1852, left LeHavre from Baden, GER. The age is right. Christian SICH appears in the 23 June 1870 census of Redford Twp, age 43, living alone, from Baden, a farm laborer with foreign-born parents. Originally bur. Hazel Cemetery, Detroit; later moved to Grand Lawn to the Schittenhelm family plot. His name and vitals appear on the back side of the Schittenhelm monument. Rosine Schittenhelm was from Simmersfeld, GER, not far from Baden, GER, and her son Jacob had a farm in Redford Twp. Seek the relationship between Seck/Schach/Sich and the Schittenhelms.
